Comments

ILO reports (2011): The Committee on the Application of Standards of the International Labour Conference remains committed to its mandate to monitor the implementation of all ILO Conventions, including those on indigenous peoples, in the relevant member States. The observations and conclusions previously made by the supervisory bodies of the ILO will continue to be taken into consideration and serve as basis for continued dialogue between the Organization and its constituents. During its 99th session in June 2010, the Committee examined the case of, among others, the application of Convention No. 169 by the Government of Peru. (Report to UNPFII Tenth Session by ILO:
