

United Nations

UNPFII
Recommendations Database

Addressee: International community

Paragraph #86 Session #23 (2024)

Full Text

The Permanent Forum encourages the full participation of Indigenous Peoples in environmental assessment processes, including in the context of possible deep-sea mining, as such participation also guarantees the contributions of Indigenous Peoples' knowledge. Given the length of the Arctic coastlines, Indigenous Peoples need to be involved in the monitoring of relevant international shipping routes and their impacts on marine biodiversity and seabeds.

Area of Work

Participation, Extractive Industries, Climate Change